Council Gets Report Of Receipts And Expenditures For Fiscal Year

Sierra Madre's receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending last June 30 were $173,964.19, according to the city's financial statement submitted by City Clerk Pratt Wednesday night to the city council.

Slightly more than $5000 over the 1935-36 figure of $168,662.92, the statement shows that bond issues, fund balances and water department expenses accounted for better than two-thirds of the city's expenditures for 1936-37.

The tax roll for the period totaled $61,259.33 as against $64,409.91 for 1935-36. Delinquent taxes and penalties amounted to $10,819.24 as against $8802.51. Water department revenues were $46,894.50 compared to $45,045.05. City court fines accounted for $541—more than double the previous year's figure of $201. Dog licenses brought the city $782 as against $862, and lot cleaning netted the city only $9.25 as against $48.26 last year. Business licenses raised $2022 as compared to $1854 a year ago.

The city's central government expenses were $19,976.50, down $2252.34; police and fire department expenses were $12,620.62, up $2155.54; health department $81.55, down $1353.20; refuse collection and lot cleaning $10,932.21, up $354.66; highways and buildings $14,716.14, up $5132.64; park expenses $2789.72, up $137.81; library upkeep $4008.29, up $55.65; water department expenses $37,796.01, up $4430.04; bond interest and redemption $35,300.62, down $2017, and fund balances $35,742.55, down $1,342.51.

Death Comes To A Kindly Woman

Scores Pay Tribute To Mrs. M. G. Lehner At Funeral Rites

"Mrs. Lehner was typical of our American pioneers—those hardy souls through whom God has wrought out the conquest and the development of this nation."

So spoke Rev. A. O. Pritchard, at funeral services held Monday at Grant's chapel for Mrs. M. G. Lehner, prominent Sierra Madre clubwoman. The rites were attended by scores of Mrs. Lehner's friends, including virtually the entire membership of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club. Dozens of impressive floral pieces attested to the high regard of the community for Mrs. Lehner.

"The daughter of a Methodist circuit rider of the early 19th century in New York state, she inherited his high moral principles, his vigorous physique and his tremendous energy," declared Mr. Pritchard.

"She threw herself into the development of her family life and the community life with directness and with force. The Woman's club and the Church can testify that when she took hold of any activity she carried it to success."

"Her ability to adapt herself to life is seen in this: that having no children of her own, she yet in her two marriages became step-mother to eight children, all of whom will testify to her maternal love and care with deep affection."

"Hold Thou My Hand" and "I'm a Pilgrim," two of Mrs. Lehner's favorite hymns, were sung by Mrs. May Moyer Barlow.

Pallbearers were Newman Esick, Woodson Jones, L. R. Coulton, J. O. Smith, Frank Lovell and R. S. Corlett.

Interment was in Escondido Memorial Park.

Mrs. Lehner, who was 70 years of age, died last Thursday at the Lutheran hospital, Pasadena. Ill since last March, she had undergone numerous operations, the last being less than a week before her death.

A spirit of kindly helpfulness marked Mrs. Lehner's many civic activities. Long prominent in affairs of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, she was particularly active in the garden section, having supervised several of the club's flower shows.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Escondido Lodge, and the Methodist church of Los Angeles.

Born in Bushville, N. Y., Mrs. Lehner came to California 40 years ago. A resident of Escondido for many years, Mrs. Lehner and her husband, George Lehner, were married at the Congregational church here in 1921.

Her home was at 550 West Sierra Madre Blvd.

Besides her husband and a sister, Mrs. Kathryn R. Kinnie, Los Angeles, she leaves five step-children, Arlyn Lehner, Eagle Rock; Merritt G. Lehner, Santa Ana; Mrs. Roy Hascomb, Escondido; and Lawrence Lehner and Mrs. Charles B. Crandall, Bakersfield.

Motorist Loses His Drivers License When Dog Is Killed

Because he ran down and killed a dog belonging to Mrs. R. F. Humfrey, 648 Holly Trail Path, and failed to stop, according to a witness, Gabriel Bartold, 17, of 1647 North Santa Anita Drive, had his driver's license suspended for 30 days, when he appeared before City Judge Tom W. Neale Tuesday.

The dog was run down in front of 44 Vista Circle Drive Saturday.

$2000 Lopped Off School Budget Here

But Pasadena Board Packs Another Increase On Taxpayers Backs

The elementary school district tax requirements for 1937-38 will be nearly $3,000 less than last year.

This was the welcome news disclosed at the public hearing on the school budget. As usual, taxpayers were noticeable by their absence.

The $3000 saving was accomplished by reducing funds earmarked for capital outlays by $2,000, and by crediting to the school treasury a check for $922.45, representing interest earned on school district funds on deposit with the county, in accordance with the judgment rendered in the case of Pomona school district.

In reducing the capital outlays fund, R. R. Hartman, board president, stated that "in my opinion $2500 is sufficient to take care of capital outlays. If the fund were higher, the surplus would likely be spent for other purposes."

Pointing out that the school district figures its tax levy on the basis of each $300 of assessed valuation raising one cent in tax money, Hartman said the county's interest check would be equivalent to tax money raised from approximately $270,000 of assessed valuation.

The action of the board here was in sharp contrast to the final public hearing on the Pasadena school district budget. Pleas of civic organizations and taxpayers for a "sensible" budget went unheeded, with the result that no changes were made in the estimates and the taxpayers were left facing a boosted tax rate of 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Tax rates of both the Pasadena high school and junior college districts are levied against Sierra Madreans, but few local taxpayers attended the Pasadena hearing. Among those speaking at the meeting were Mrs. Waverly Pratt, president of the Woodrow Wilson PTA, and Col. H. B. Hershey.

Noted Artists Will Sing At Wistaria Gardens Sunday

Robert Charles Sellen, prominent basso-cantante, will be the featured artist at next Sunday afternoon's musical tea at the Wistaria Vine Gardens, it was announced yesterday by George Pearson and Jean Ceraile. Assisting artist will be Hazel Wright, mezzo soprano.

Recently returned from a concert tour of the East, Sellen, who is a member of the staff of the Pasadena Grand Opera company, has been leading bass of the Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Carlo Opera companies for several seasons.

The affair, which will get under way at 4 p.m., is presented by the Wistaria Vine Gardens and the artist musicians guild, sustaining organization of the Pasadena Grand Opera company.

"Pagliacci," in concert form, with a noted cast and chorus of selected voices, will be presented at the Wistaria Gardens Sunday evening, August 22, with Umberto Martucci, musical director, at the piano.

Council Votes Aid For Scout Troops

An appropriation of $100 to carry on the Boy Scout program in Sierra Madre during the coming year was voted by the city council Wednesday night, following the plea of Col. H. B. Hershey who pointed out that "no asset is so great as our boys who will be our future citizens."

Phone Co. Provides Pay Station Service

Nighthawks who have had difficulty heretofore in finding a public phone booth are going to have it made easier for them.

This was disclosed yesterday when Building Inspector Lees announced a permit had been issued to the California Water & Telephone Co. to remodel their building at Baldwin and Highland avenues in order to install public phone booths and restrooms.

The booths and rest rooms will be open 24 hours a day.

Council Cuts City Taxes Five Cents

Increase In Valuations Allows Reduction In Face Of Higher Costs

Sierra Madre's general tax rate for 1937-38 will be $2.35 per $100 of assessed valuation, a reduction of 5 cents from last year's levy.

The tax levy ordinance, setting up the sum of $63,049.79 to be raised by taxation to carry on the various departments of the city during the 1937-38 fiscal year, was given its initial reading at Wednesday night's council session. Last year's general levy raised $62,445.

While the general tax rate is down 5 cents, the rates for the Canyon Park special assessment districts show substantial increases.

The rate for municipal improvement district No. 1 is set at $1.80 in addition to the general city rate, as against $1.47 last year.

For acquisition and improvement district No. 2 the rate is $2.291 for zone 1, $1.401 for zone 2, $2.08 for zone 3 and $1.639 for zone 4. Last year's rates were $1.907, $1.137, $1.82 and $1.433 respectively.

Broken down, the $2.35 general rate shows $1 earmarked for general fund purposes, $1.05 for interest and sinking funds, 12 cents for the park fund and 18 cents for the library fund. Figures last year were $1, $1.14, 11 cents and 15 cents, respectively.

Based on the city's 1937-38 assessed valuation of $2,682,970, the various rates will raise these amounts:

Interest and sinking fund—$28,171.18 as against $29,661.37 last year; park fund $3219.55 as against $2862.06; library fund—$4299.35 as against $3902.82; and general fund $26,829.70 as against $26,018.75.

Municipal improvement district No. 1—$1050.48 as against $903.68.

Acquisition and improvement district No. 2: zone 1—$8656.54 as against $7566.98; zone 2—$2218.48 as against $1939.15; zone 3—$998 as against $874 and zone 4—$265.52 as against $232.14.

Gay Carnival To Attract Big Crowd

Many Interesting Water Events Planned For Canyon Pool Tomorrow

Husky life guards, shapely bathing beauties, water comedians and school kids will join in staging the Canyon Park plunge's greatest and gayest water carnival tomorrow night.

The affair will ring down the curtain on Coach C. N. (Newt) Stark's swimming classes, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Red Cross. More than 100 boys and girls, young people and adults entered the classes to perfect their swimming technique and to win the coveted life-saving certificates and badges.

The pool, with its canopy of sycamore trees, will be brilliantly illuminated by floodlights.

Highspotting the program will be a life-saving demonstration by Long Beach life guards, many of whom passed their boyhood days in Sierra Madre and learned to swim in the Canyon Park plunge.

Different ways of rescuing drowning persons will be shown by the large class of young people who have earned their junior life-saving badges. Much strenuous practice and difficult swimming is necessary to win these honors.

Scorning the "baby pool," beyond which most of them heretofore hesitated to venture, the boys and girls will show the audience how they now can swim confidently around the plunge.

Races and diving exhibitions will also be featured on the program, while a group of water comedians will maintain the peppy pace of the festivities.

Efforts are being made to secure the services of Pat West as emcee for the evening. Sporting a three-weeks beard and wearing a bathing suit, the rotund fun-maker alone should be worth the price of admission, Manager Jim Heasley declares.

The program will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. Free parking will be available at the Petzel parking lot adjoining the plunge.

New Zoning Ordinance Demanded

Planning Commission Asks Council To Arrange Series Of Meetings

Preservation of the beauty of Sierra Madre and its property values through a proper city plan and zoning ordinance has become an all-important subject in Sierra Madre. The existing ordinance having been declared invalid by reason of a court decision striking down Santa Barbara's regulation, many property holders have urged that no time be lost in preparation of a new law that will safeguard the city and prevent the erection of buildings that would be detrimental to nearby homes and real estate and to the city generally.

Stirred by these appeals the City Planning Commission at a meeting Wednesday night asked the Council, through City Business Manager Myers, to invite City Manager Roman, of Alhambra to come here and address a joint meeting of the commission and the Council on the procedure followed by the neighboring city in the adoption of its new zoning law which has met with practically 100 per cent approval by the citizens.

To make the present stop-gap zoning regulation effective the city must immediately undertake preparation of a comprehensive new ordinance, which must be adopted within six months. The Planning Commission believes public interest should be immediately aroused so that in a series of general and district discussions a law that will be generally acceptable.

Ronan, formerly of South Pasadena, is recognized as one of the best city planners on the west coast. It is possible that a representative of Culver City, which also recently adopted an ordinance that has met with general approval, will be invited to tell of the method pursued in the film town. The meetings would, of course, be open to the public.

Thornton M. Carson of 491 West Montecito avenue, was unanimously agreed upon by the Planning Commission for a vacancy in the organization and his appointment was recommended to the Council.

Townfolk Pledge More Flowers For Golden Girl Float

Among a dozen important pledges to grow flowers for Sierra Madre's 1938 Rose Tournament float, "The Girl of the Golden West," this week were three received yesterday by Waverly Pratt, float committee chairman, assuring large plantings.

Among most important new donors are the British Old People's Home, W. C. Kennedy, representing the W. J. Barlow estate, and George Kunihio, grower and manager of the Oakwood Florist Shop on Foothill boulevard.

City Values Steadily Gaining

Expansion And New Buildings Bringing Tax Base Back To Normal

Sierra Madre's adjusted assessment valuation for the fiscal year of 1937-38 is $2,682,970, City Clerk Pratt announced yesterday.

The figure is $81,095 more than the city's assessed valuation last year.

The city's real estate is now valued at $1,306,790, improvements $1,145,080 and personal property $150,555. Last year's figures were $1,312,830, $1,078,189 and $145,675, respectively.

Exemptions granted this year total $157,015 as against $152,225 last year.

Public utilities here are valued at $237,240 as against $217,240 for 1936-37.

Money this year is assessed at $320, last year's figure being $175.

Canyon Park municipal improvement district No. 1 is assessed at $58,360 this year as against $61,475 last year.

Zones 1 and 2 in Canyon Park A & I. district No. 2 are assessed at $37,785 and $15,835 as against $39,680 and $17,055 last year. Figures for zones 3 and 4 remain unchanged—$480 and $1,620.

While the city's assessed valuation has climbed steadily since the "depression lull" of 1934-35, when the total stood at $2,349,455, it is still more than a million dollars under the 1929-30 "high" of $3,799,445.

With the assessment figures now determined, work is proceeding on the city's budget for 1937-38. The document is expected to be completed and the tax rate announced the latter part of August.

Great Ranch To Be Desert Resort

Rival Of Palm Springs Grows Under Direction Of A Sierra Madrean

Following closely the announced sale of the E. T. Earl Ranch, near Lancaster and Palmdale to M. Penn Phillips, prominent local financier and sportsman, comes news that the famous ranch is to be used by Mr. Phillips as the nucleus for an establishment of a great desert resort—something similar to, though more diversified than Palm Springs.

Mr. Phillips advised a reporter of the NEWS yesterday, at his office in Pasadena, that the project is well under way and that by early fall the building and grounds, to be used by the Antelope Country Club, of which all owners of estates in the colony are members, will be ready for occupancy.

Pat West, our genial and well known local sportsman, is one of the Founder Members of the Country Club and has been placed in charge of all athletic events of which many are scheduled for the future.

Masons To Confer Degree On Tuesday

Another candidate will receive the first degree of Masonry in the local Masonic lodge at 133 East Sierra Madre Blvd. on Tuesday evening, August 17th at 7:30 p.m. All local Masons are asked to attend the ceremonies and all Masonic sojourners are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served after the ritual.

CITY READY FOR EMERGENCIES; STOCKS UP WITH TEAR GAS GUNS AND HAND GRENADES

Modernizing the city's police department, tear-gas guns and hand grenades are now an important feature of police equipment here.

The department has acquired several 20-gauge pocket guns and a stock of "jumper-repeater" hand grenades.

The cylinder-shaped pocket guns, which are about seven inches long and a little over an inch in diameter spout tear gas

Dunn Named Attorney For The City

Council Divides 3-2 In Selection Of Monrovia Man For Vacant Post

City Council divided three and two over the selection of a city attorney Wednesday evening when Walter Dunn of Monrovia, was elected to the post made vacant by the resignation of Phil Dodson, now in the government service at Washington.

E. E. Hitchcock, local attorney whose appointment was urged in a petition signed by 150 Sierra Madreans, received the votes of Councilmen Preston Schwartz and Thomas Miller. Mayor Reavis, John Froehlich and Lester K. Layton voted for Dunn, who was nominated by Froehlich.

Hitchcock's name was presented by Miller, seconded by Schwartz and the roll was called. Only two votes were cast for him, the three Dunn supporters merely voting "no." When the roll was called on Dunn, Miller and Schwartz voted "no." Dunn receiving three votes, Mr. Schwartz at once moved that the selection be made unanimous and Miller seconded the motion which carried.

Less than a dozen spectators were in the Council chamber and none asked to be heard.

Dunn served Monrovia as mayor for two terms, 1916 to 1924. He was formerly city attorney of Arcadia and El Monte. He has always been active in politics and is a strong Democrat, was educated in the Monrovia schools and is a graduate of Stanford University. He is married and has two children.

Decision Expected In Cocktail Lounge Litigation Soon

That decision in the cocktail lounge and restaurant litigation involving the Arcade Coffee Shop and the Sierra Madre Hotel may be expected from Judge Isadore Dockweiler either tomorrow or Monday, was indicated by the final day of the lengthy court hearing in Los Angeles yesterday.

For two weeks Mrs. Deborah Preston and Mrs. Helen McDougall, the principals in the case, and an imposing battery of witnesses, have trailed across the witness stand under the shepherding of Attorney Clyde Murphy, representing Mrs. McDougall, and Attorney Arnold Praeger, counsel for Mrs. Preston.

Among those taking the stand have been Officer Jim Heasley, Russell Dumas, "Folly" Ellison and G. O. McDougall.

The suit involves eviction proceedings brought against Mrs. Preston by Mrs. McDougall and a restraining order, secured by Mrs. Preston, to prevent the hotel from opening and operating a cocktail lounge and restaurant in the hotel block.

Merchants To Play Strong Team Tonite

The Sierra Madre Merchants ball club plays the Moore Machinery team, a formidable Los Angeles City League aggregation here tonight, and with Kiggins and Midkiff both available for mound duty the locals will give any rival a tough battle. Game starts promptly at 8 o'clock.

Friday night a good sized crowd was on deck to see the Merchants play the Glenn's of Los Angeles, but the visitors failed to put in an appearance, so two local teams were picked and staged a snappy seven inning game. It was the first time this season that a visiting club has failed to show here when advertised.

Night Bloomer Is Doing Its Stuff

Mrs. J. F. Harvey, 155 San Gabriel Court, held a reception on her veranda Wednesday night to give her friends and interested gardeners a chance to see a night-blooming cereus with six blossoms.

It is a tall plant of flexuous angled branches with large fragrant white flowers that open about midnight.

A distance of 15 feet. They discharge enough gas to fill an ordinary sized room.

The hand grenades are of the new "jumper" type and release tear gas two seconds after being thrown. Between discharges, they automatically "kick" several feet, making it virtually impossible to pick them up while exploding.

The new equipment augments the department's supply of 12-gauge riot guns.

Into Thy hand I commit my spirit.—Ps. 31:5.

Be still awhile from thy own thoughts, desires and imaginations and raise thy mind up to God; and thou wilt find strength from Him, and find Him to be a God at hand, a present help in time of trouble and need.

The... Watch Tower

By Percy Poore Sheehan

HERE is something we ran across in an old letter the other night: "We also grow in the silence and the dark—which is the root-time of our living. For only from such root-development can the invisible tree of our spirit draw strength, grow great and beautiful, become a gathering place for birds—and angels." There's more of it. A letter written by a poet friend at a time when things looked pretty bad. Reminding us of Emerson's

Let me go where I will
I hear a sky-born music still.
Or, for that matter, the Palmist's
If I make my bed in hell,
Behold, thou art there.

WELL, with this as a starter, let us now disregard all danger signs and skate over some rather thin ice (sounds tempting, this August). With reference—how shall we put it? Let's say—to Poetry and the Church, their divorce—or separation. Why aren't the two of them living together now as they used to? They were such a beautiful couple. And their children, how superb! "Lead kindly light, amid the encircling gloom..." That was one of them. "O little town of Bethlehem! Abide with me; fast falls the eventide..."

WE mean: Poets are still writing lines like these, filled with the very best of religious thought and feeling; and in church, on the other hand, there's not a Sunday but we hear things to kindle any poet's heart. Consider, "Therefore with angels and archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious name" and so on. And yet—we don't know why—we never see them together nowadays. Poetry and the Church. We mean Poetry as represented by live poets—those poets living now in Sierra Madre. Divorce? Or just a temporary falling out?

WE thought of that a few days back when we went to a party given by and for poets (yet they let us in!) at the Petersons', over in West Montecito. And long before that we'd been to another, one evening, at Mary Ward's, up on East Grand View. Stirring and worth while, both these parties—and both under the leadership of Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney. By the way, have you read—or better, bought—that latest book of theirs? Thank You, America! A grand book. We wish we could quote at length. "Let us keep faith..." That's one of Lucia's—

Let us keep faith with all that cries
Within our hearts against despair...

Or this, from Ralph's "Comrade Jesus":

I do not know what He may be;
I only know he walks with me.

SOME of the best, some of the truest, religious poetry—sacred music it could properly be called—would ever hear, now being recorded by these our friends and neighbors, our very own Sierra Madre poets. Not all of it, as you might say, churchly, this poetry. But all of it, in the larger sense, religious—that is, light-shot with Truth, Beauty, Kindness, and richly spiritual. As it was with practically all the rest of the poetry we heard read at those parties.

SO—treat this as confidential, will you?—we got to talking to Dr. Heagerty about it. You know, Dean Bode's successor, who'll be taking charge in September, up there at the Church of the Ascension. Yes, and talking to some of our friends the poets about it too. About some

THE Japanese love flowers. Show me one who doesn't and I will wager you his ancestors never came from the "Land of the Setting Sun." Inadvertently I overheard a conversation between a young lady and a Pasadena Japanese nursery proprietor. The lady was in the market for bulbs. She confessed that she had never tried to raise flowers from seeds or bulbs.

"I think I'll have you wrap me up seeds. Let me see, I want to raise Jonquills, Narcissus—they're pretty; also Chinese lilies, but perhaps you don't handle Chinese lilies, now that Japan and China are at war," she told the Nursery boss.

"War" replied the solemn faced Japanese, "No war lady, everything all right."

Then he entered into a long discourse about Jonquills, Narcissus and Chinese lilies "More better" he said, "you plant bulb, not seed; no—not seed, this month now—August, but be sure you plant 'em right side up."

I gathered from the conversation that if you want to raise Jonquills, Chinese lilies and Narcissus and get results, the big idea is to start with bulbs and not seeds.

Since coming to California I am getting a liberal education in flowers, planting seeds, bulbs, the proper fertilizer to use and all that sort of thing, and it's very interesting. But if we loved flowers as much as the Japanese, there would not be an ugly vacant lot in Sierra Madre.

A reader is aghast at my ignorance of the ways of movie folks. Her letter says many of the movie stars wear smoked goggles to hide bleary eyes and other evidences of dissipation the night before and that extras, bit players and what have you wear them in the hope of being mistaken for stars. And then, she says, just plain goofs who have never been near a studio wear them in the hope that they will be thought to be of the movies. Great world; great world.

"Why do they call a baseball enthusiast 'a fan'?"

This question was hurled at me by a youngster who loves the game and who reads the newspapers.

I answered the same question many years ago while sports editor of a Pittsburgh newspaper, and got the information from one of the best informed baseball writers in the world, John Gruber, who is now dead. Calling on my memory, here's the answer.

The origin of "fan" as applied to a baseball bug dates back to the eighties, when Chris Von der Ahe, owner of the St. Louis Browns called Charles Haas the greatest fanatic in baseball. Baseball writers began to call these enthusiasts "fan-atics" and within a short time called them simply "fans."

sort of a little get together affair. To show the world. How the old, old love has never died—of the Church for Poetry and of Poetry for the Church. Maybe we'd better keep quiet about it though until things get further along. You wait; more anon.

ONLY, what started us on this was that old letter we mentioned up above. What we felt, what we remembered, what we dreamed of as we read it. And do you want to hear the rest of it? More than that, perhaps; but we'll risk it. Here it is: "I've meditated much on what men call misfortunes" (he wrote). "And I have come to believe that every disappointment is but an incident of progressive initiation. Rightly considered, rightly interpreted, every hardship is a signal of advance." In this connection, it occurs to me that all the real crucifixions in the life of Christ must have come before—long before—the recorded one, this last one being but a symbol of those that made Him what He was. Thus—with all of us!"

Something To Tempt Every Literary Taste In New Books At The Library

Fiction, non-fiction or poetry—there's something for everybody in the month's new books at the public library.

For fiction enthusiasts there's "Northwest Passage," a rousing tale of the French and Indian War, starring that hero-villain, Robert of the Rangers, by Kenneth Roberts. Slightly lighter reading is provided by P. G. Wodehouse's new book, "The Crime Wave at Blandings."

Highlighting the new non-fiction is "Serve It Forth," good talk on fun and food without pretentiousness or affectation, by M. F. K. Fisher.

Poetry-lovers are offered Edna St. Vincent Millay's "Conversation at Midnight," a long drama of ideas in which Miss Millay, essaying the role of major poet, sets forth the clashing philosophies of the day.

Other new fiction: "Blind Man's Year," Deeping; "Paradise," Forbes; "Joppa Door," Sykes; "Truth to Tell," Rosman; "I've Been to London," Bailey; "Nothing Is Safe," Delafield; and "This Side of Regret," Cushman.

New non-fiction includes "Advances of Science," Davis; "Damien the Leper," Farrow; "Invertebrate Spain," Ortega; "Orchids on Your Budget," Hillis; "Safe Driving," Hamilton; "Fashions in Art," Elliott; "Take Care of Yourself," Ephraim; "Contract Bridge 1937," Culbertson; "New Etiquette," Wilson; "Vermillion Bird," Sheffield, and "Beside the Madre have fallen upon stony ground. Apparently there are no Kansans in this city with the exception of the person who wrote me a letter suggesting that I print the names of all who were born or spent their early life in Kansas, and organize "The Sun Flower Club of Sierra Madre." I readily agreed as those who read my column in THE NEWS last week know, but as this is being written not a Kansan has stepped forward.

I was under the impression that Sierra Madre harbored many Kansans, but apparently I am mistaken.

The "Sun Flower Club" proposition stands for another week. Write, telephone or call personally and leave your name and your former Kansas hometown at THE NEWS. Let's get this club started.

It doesn't cost anything, there's no trick in it.

TOWN PICKUPS

Members of the Sierra Madre Merchants ball club and their friends staged another deep sea fishing excursion Sunday, and Oh what lies about the fish they caught and the fish that got away... The American Legion post has lost Comrade Wiley, who has sold his clothes cleaning business. Wiley originally came from Caspar, Wyoming, where the wide open spaces are still wide open... An auto trip Sunday up San Gabriel Canyon was a real treat to me. It's a wonderful ride and you see plenty of Miss Doris Gilbert, formerly of THE NEWS, paid a flying visit Saturday, calling on old friends.

The gal is prettier than ever. I have her telephone number; try and get it. "I see by the papers that China and Japan are at war," I remarked to Sam the shoe shine man. He gave me a broad grin as he replied, "Well, all I can say is that they've got a nice day for it!" I hear that my good friend Pearson is planning to move his book shop back to the main stem... Pat West came out from behind the bushy bush to remark, "If I can only keep these whiskers until Christmas, I'd make a swell Santa Claus, and then the Salvation Army would get a break..." Joe Sadler has accepted my golf challenge and Emile Smith says he is willing to put the family bank roll on Joe to win... The battle will be on just as soon as the links are ready over in Arcadia... Welch the feed store man never wears a hat... Labor Day will soon be here, and how the kids hate the name of Labor Day... It suggests school... How many local youngsters have learned to swim in the Canyon plunge under that Muir Tech coach?

Protest Invasion Of Citrus Area By Labor Agitators

Maintaining that employer and employee shall be free to bargain collectively or individually, regardless of whether workers belong to any union, a statement of policy had been posted yesterday in every citrus packing house in this area.

Striking back at union organizers working for a "closed shop" in the San Gabriel Valley citrus area, the notice strongly condemns any "policy of intimidation or coercion" on the part of anyone in the industry and pledges the industry's resources to protect citrus workers in "their right to work."

The statement explains that it was the intent of Congress to exempt agriculture from control of the National Labor Relations Board and that packing houses as well as orchard workers are exempt.

California border quarantine stations are rendering a splendid service to the state. The border inspectors, during 1936, examined 944,750 automobiles entering the state and intercepted 25,887 lots of plants or plant products infested with serious pests, or in violation of quarantine regulations.

There is admitted delay and inconvenience to the traveler, in some instances, but the continued use of "Why" slips, explaining the vital necessity for the inspections, should help to educate the public and allay criticism.

In highlight summary, such are the findings of a special investigating committee of the State Chamber of Commerce, which recently concluded an exhaustive inquiry into "the value and necessity of border quarantines."

The committee found that: "Many serious pests established in parts of the nation do not occur in California, some of the more important being cotton boll weevil, Colorado potato beetle, Japanese beetle, oriental fruit moth, cherry fruit flies, European corn borer, Mexican fruit fly, apple maggot."

"California is surrounded by natural barriers, including deserts, mountains and oceans, so there is unusual opportunity for quarantines to be effective."

"Annual costs to growers for controlling pests and diseases introduced into California before quarantines were established. One instance: the red scale of citrus which is estimated to cost $1,100,000 yearly."

"Many California crops because of cost of land, irrigation and transportation return a narrow margin of profit which easily could be wiped out by a major pest."

Most significant in the Committee's findings, perhaps, is the fact that only one pest—the alfalfa weevil—has been introduced into California since the border quarantine service was established, while during the same period nearly a dozen new pests were brought into other parts of the country from abroad.

Lucia Trent Wins Signal Honor In National Contest

Lucia Trent has again won national premiership in a coast-to-coast poetry competition based on popularity with readers. Her poem, "When Memories Ride the Wind," won first place over all others in a contest staged by "Verse Craft," national poetry magazine, securing votes from Canada as well as throughout the United States. A letter from the editor, Dr. Lawrence N. Neff, of Emory University, just received by Lucia Trent reports this poem won "by a substantial majority," and added, "there is always pleasure to me in confirming a verdict in favor of the work of either you or Ralph Cheyney. I feel that your personal contributions to the magazine have added greatly to its actual worthwhileness." The letter enclosed the prize check. This is the third "Verse Craft" prize she has won. Last year Ralph Cheyney carried off first prize.

Possibility that neighboring counties may make serious inroads into this area's citrus industry was seen yesterday in the reported decision of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties not to pass ordinances similar to Los Angeles county's statute drastically regulating orchard leasing. These three counties still have the old ordinance restricting consumption of carbonaceous material to 20 grams, thus eliminating the need for orchardists to revamp old equipment or purchase new equipment at heavy expense.

It's going to cost taxpayers an additional $5,000,000 to pay old age pensions in Los Angeles county during the fiscal year of 1937-38 and because of new mandatory legislation, passed by the last legislature and adding more than 14,000 additional elderly persons to the pension rolls. The supervisors have no choice in the matter, Rex Thompson, county superintendent of charities, and the county counsel's department told the supervisors this week. More than 50,000 persons will be getting the old age pension in the county during the current fiscal year, an increase of virtually 400 per cent in two years. Total expenditures for old age pensions this year will be nearly $17,000,000. The increase is largely due to the enactment of the Hornblower bill which permits pensioners to keep property worth an assessed valuation of $3,000 and to have private income if it does not exceed $15 a month.

On an average, every inhabitant of the United States this year will travel 2,000 miles, according to information received by the National Automobile Club from the National Highway Users Conference. The bulk of this stupendous travel will be by motor vehicle. The estimated average for this year is more than four times that of the 1920 average compiled by the Federal Coordinator of Transportation. It also exceeds the average established in 1929, when the number of passenger automobiles was at least 1,000,000 less than at present.

Drunken drivers in Memphis, Tenn., are to be treated as potential murderers. Orders to the police department provide that such persons shall be fingerprinted and their pictures taken in stripes, with numbers on their chests. The photographs also are to be made available for publication.

Germany's millions of school children submit this Fall to a new pre-fabricated account of world history, cut, trimmed and tailored to the Nazi specifications contained in a just published teachers' handbook. That history is made of events that have already happened is no obstacle to the leaders of New Germany. If they say events didn't happen the way an enlightened world believes they did, woe betide the bumptious teacher or pupil who dares to think differently. Unless, of course, the said bumptious person has such an over-developed curiosity he wants to find out how it feels when the silk-hatted, white-gloved executioner administers the cool, shining blade of a steel axe across his neck.

Musical-Tea Draws Appreciative Crowd To Wistaria Vine

The musical and tea held at the Wistaria Vine Gardens Sunday afternoon was attended by more than forty local music lovers and their guests and many visitors from Pasadena and other valley cities.

Patrick Martin, operatic and radio baritone, pleased his audience with his rich voice and vivid interpretations.

Harold Porter Smythe, concert pianist, played his selections with artistry and feeling.

After the musicale, tea was served under the pergola and much interest was evinced in the future teas by those who attended.

Mrs. Margaret Keys and Mrs. Homer Tuttle, recently entertained four old school mates and their daughters who had attended Downer College in Wisconsin with her, many years ago.

ADJUSTABILITY

THE MOST ADJUSTABLE
OF HOUSEHOLD FUELS
IS NATURAL GAS!

You wouldn't have a pair of field glasses that you couldn't adjust to suit your eyes. Your vision must be sharp and clear. It is just as important to have a household fuel that permits exact adjustment to meet varying needs.

In cooking, for example, when a recipe calls for a certain low temperature, natural gas gives the precise degree required. It gives exact high temperature, too — and any degree between.

You enjoy similar superior service in water heating and house heating. Moreover, gas is the only fuel that provides silent, automatic refrigeration. Modernize your home with new gas appliances. The latest models, marvels of beauty and convenience, are now on display at your dealer's or your gas company.

JUST ONE THING AFTER ANOTHER AT WESTS

The Pat Wests, 622 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., were busy people during the week. Sunday, Pat West and Elliot Jackson attended the Masquers picnic at the Up-lifters Club. Earlier in the week, Patricia and Barbara West had as house-guests little Miss Peggy Guio, daughter of Fred Guio, director at R. K. O.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of The Boys

WE learn that our big America La France truck is now paid for. The suction hose that let go last drill night must have been celebrating the event. All the equipment now in the fire house is paid for and owned by the city. All of the engines could stand some repair work which would put them in first class condition for a long time.

What with vacation time, deer season and fishing season all on us, we can expect any kind of stories afloat. Joe Swanson has gone to the tall timbers and expects to spend a few days among

Two Hunters Fire, Deer Drops, But Who Hit Him?

Fred Lalone and Collin Hill bagged a 180-pound deer Sunday but they're still arguing about who gets the credit.

Both Fred and Collin sighted the buck at the same time, both drew a bead on him and then fired simultaneously. Each thought he was the one that brought down the animal, until they turned and found they'd both been banging away at the same deer!

Scene of the "double-single" killing was Thorne Meadows in Ventura county.

When they were ready to return home they decided it might have been better if they'd never seen the critter, as they had to tote it over a mile to their car.

Cut up, the buck provided more than 60 pounds of meat.

the hills that he knew many years ago. Joe was once a packer into the High Sierras and often long to get back on the narrow, lonely trails.

Roy Davis just returned from a trip north thru the redwoods, but it seems the most important thing Roy saw was the large winery of the Guasti boys. He said he saw enough wine there to float a lead sinker. George Norris says he is going to take a vacation, but we doubt it at the fire station. The Chief and Mrs. Richards have not said just where they will go this year, but we can be assured that wherever they go, Mrs. Richards will do the driving. Pretty soft for Bill. I couldn't blame Mrs. Richards much at that. Did you ever ride with Bill? Frank Lovell made a short jaunt to Yosemite to try out a new Ford. Tom Schwartz is somewhere, but only his return will disclose where he has been. He goes where the spirit leads him. "Shorty" Steinberger will have plenty to tell when he comes down from his ride. We hope.

Kiwanians Hear Odd Facts About The Stamp Collectors

Blown-in-the-bottle stamp collectors in the United States alone now number more than 100,000. Rev. A. O. Pritchard, immediate past president, told Kiwanians Tuesday noon.

But there are hundreds of thousands more of casual stamp savers, he said.

Stamp collectors pay good money for their fun. In one year the United States government sold $1,945,019 worth of stamps through the postoffice's Philatelic agency.

While old stamps are not necessarily valuable, one of British Guiana's first stamps last sold for $40,000! In contrast, the first stamp issued by Great Britain can be bought any time for less than $2.

Many stamps issued during recent years are now dyed-in-the-wool rarities. A 24-cent airmail stamp put out by Uncle Sam not so long ago, is priced at $1200—just because the center is upside down!

Many Families Had Fish Dinners Monday Evening

Fish was the principal item of food on many dinner-tables Monday, following an all-day fishing excursion to Santa Monica Sunday by more than a dozen Sierra Madrans.

The rod-and-line wielders were George Scott, Henry Lannan, Frank Lovell, Mr. and Mrs. "Buss" Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hedund, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ryan, Dale Langley, Fritz Richter, James Kelleher, James Thomas, Robert Clark and Robert Sider.

They chartered a boat and spent the day reeling in mackerel, barracuda, tom cod and sea bass. Besides the fish, they acquired some plain and fancy sunburns.

Sider got the "boat prize" for the biggest fish, a sea bass. Ryan surprised everybody by pulling in a young shark.

Gay Carnival To Attract Big Crowd

Many Interesting Water Events Planned For Canyon Pool Tomorrow

Husky life guards, shapely bathing beauties, water comedians and school kids will join in staging the Canyon Park plunge's greatest and gayest water carnival tomorrow night.

The affair will ring down the curtain on Coach C. N. (Newt) Stark's swimming classes, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Red Cross. More than 100 boys and girls, young people and adults entered the classes to perfect their swimming technique and to win the coveted life-saving certificates and badges.

The pool, with its canopy of sycamore trees, will be brilliantly illuminated by floodlights. Highspotting the program will be a life-saving demonstration by Long Beach life guards, many of whom passed their boyhood days in Sierra Madre and learned to swim in the Canyon Park plunge.

Different ways of rescuing drowning persons will be shown by the large class of young people who have earned their junior life-saving badges. Much strenuous practice and difficult swimming is necessary to win these honors.

Scorning the "baby pool," beyond which most of them heretofore hesitated to venture, the boys and girls will show the audience how they now can swim confidently around the plunge.

Races and diving exhibitions will also be featured on the program, while a group of water comedians will maintain the peppy pace of the festivities.

Efforts are being made to secure the services of Pat West as emcee for the evening. Sporting a three-weeks beard and wearing a bathing suit, the rotund fun-maker alone should be worth the price of admission, Manager Jim Heasley declares.

The program will start promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Free parking will be available at the Petzel parking lot adjoining the plunge.

They chartered a boat and spent the day reeling in mackerel, barracuda, tom cod and sea bass. Besides the fish, they acquired some plain and fancy sunburns.

Musical-Tea Draws Appreciative Crowd To Wistaria Vine

The musicale and tea held at the Wistaria Vine Gardens Sunday afternoon was attended by more than forty local music lovers and their guests and many visitors from Pasadena and other valley cities.

Patrick Martin, operatic and radio baritone, pleased his audience with his rich voice and vivid interpretations.

After the musicale, tea was served under the pergola and much interest was evinced in the future teas by those who attended.

MILLERS CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Al W. Miller, 119 W. Grandview, was celebrated Friday night by a supper on Mrs. Miller who expected to tend the theatre with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rockefeller of Los Angeles. Instead, her husband drove her to a restaurant where a party of 20 awaited her.

After a merry dinner and many congratulations the group drove to the Miller home where dancing was enjoyed.

Mrs. Gerald Waring of Los Angeles sang several appropriate solos accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Waring, a talented pianist. A midnight supper was served.

Guests who participated in the happy occasion were, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rockefeller, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. MODERNness implies
ADJUSTABILITY

OF HOUSEHOLD FUELS
IS NATURAL GAS!

You wouldn't have a pair of field glasses that you couldn't adjust to suit your eyes. Your vision must be sharp and clear. It is just as important to have a household fuel that permits exact adjustment to meet varying needs.

In cooking, for example, when a recipe calls for a certain low temperature, natural gas gives the precise degree required. It gives exact high temperature, too—and any degree between.

You enjoy similar superior service in water heating and house heating. Moreover, gas is the only fuel that provides silent, automatic refrigeration. Modernize your home with new gas appliances. The latest models, marvels of beauty and convenience, are now on display at your dealer's or your gas company.

Two Hunters Fire, Deer Drops, But Who Hit Him?

Fred Lalone and Collin Hill bagged a 180-pound deer Sunday but they're still arguing about who gets the credit.

Both Fred and Collin sighted the buck at the same time, both drew a bead on him and then fired simultaneously. Each thought he was the one that brought down the animal, until they turned and found they'd both been banging away at the same deer!

Scene of the "double-single" killing was Thorne Meadows in Ventura county.

When they were ready to return home they decided it might have been better if they'd never seen the critter, as they had to tote it over a mile to their car.
